COMMANDING OFFICERS OF THE NEW MILITIA UNITS ENTERTAINED BY THE R.S.L. AT ANZAC HOUSE

Let us therefore brace ourselves to our duties, and so bear ourselves that, if the British Empire and its Commonwealth last for a thousand years, men will still say: "This was their finest hour."

COMMUNISM AND R.S.L. POLICY DO NOT MIX

"No Communist shall be permitted to become or remain a member of the R.S.L." There is nothing complicated in that statement, and its import is perfectly clear.

Mr. Eric Millhouse, K.C., the Federal President of the League, has issued that instruction to state branches. The State President has passed on the instruction to sub-branch presidents, and it now lies with sub-branch presidents to have the policy implemented.

Excuses no doubt will be manufactured as to why these instructions should not, or cannot, be carried into effect. Many would seek to interpret the constitution to suit their own way of thinking—some do so in the interests of correct procedure—others are doing so from motives not quite so idealistic.

Some sub-branch officials are perturbed lest they offend against League policy, which, as they correctly assert, is non-party political.

In the first place, the Communists are an organisation and should not be regarded as a political party and thus placed side by side with the known and established organisations of political thought which occupy honoured and responsible positions in the community.

In the second place, Communism being outside the pale does not rank with party politics as laid down in the constitution. The League’s duty is clearly defined in the constitution.

The League undertakes to inculcate loyalty to Australia and the Empire. It undertakes to serve Australia with that spirit of self-sacrifice and loyalty which, as ex-servicemen, they served Australia and the Empire. The integrity of the Empire is part of the League’s policy.

Communism from the very nature of its makeup cannot align itself with these ideals. Commonsense, therefore, dictates, apart from legal interpretations or subterfuges, that no one can be a sincere Communist and at the same time a good member of the League.

The legal interpretation of the rules, so far as they affect Communists within the League, are surely sufficiently evident, even to the lay mind, apart from the fact that commonsense and ethics also decree that Communists cannot be members of the League.

Although precaution has been taken to ensure that the implementation of the instruction regarding Communists is carried out with due regard to the rights of everyone concerned, this must not be interpreted to mean that the League is uncertain of its grounds or that it is weakening in the stand which it has taken.

It should be easy enough to deal with the scarlet type of Communist. He is open about his beliefs and easily recognised. Difficulty might

Who Will Be Miss Australia 1948?
THIS YEAR'S QUEST WILL BE RUN BY R.S.L.

The nation-wide quest for Miss Australia 1948 is being conducted throughout Western Australia and other States by a Board of Honorary Directors, and the Western Australian section of the competition will benefit the R.S.L. War Veterans’ Home. Most other States will also follow the same procedure.

All sub-branches are invited to take advantage of this campaign to nominate your own candidate and assist your own cause financially.

Miss Australia 1948 will come from any city, town or country district throughout Australia. She may be your own nominee.

The quest will close on Tuesday, November 2, 1948, and by that date many girls will be aspiring to the title of Miss Western Australia.

Below are printed the rules governing the contest. Make this year of 1948 an outstanding one for the R.S.L. With the League solidly behind the Miss Australia contest it cannot fail to be a boner and, apart from aiding your sub-branch financially, will be of immense help to the League from a publicity point of view.

1. Eligibility of Candidates
   Candidates must be of British or Naturalised British parents, single, born in Australia and at least 18 years of age before date of State adjudication. Marriage will debar a candidate from final selection.

2. Procedure of Nomination
   Western Australian candidates must be nominated by committees, which will complete application form. Candidates must agree to their nomination in writing.

3. Formation of Committees
   It is particularly desired that all R.S.L. sub-branches will form committees. Committees may also be formed by any group of citizens or organisation, including ex-service men and women, religious, industrial, commercial, professional, educational, social, sporting, government departments, local governing bodies, trade unions, motion picture radio, theatrical, welfare, charitable, etc., etc.

4. R.S.S. & A.I.I.A. District Plan
   So that candidates nominated by small committees or committees in small localities will have every opportunity to qualify for State adjudication in Perth, the State is being divided into R.S.L. districts as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Country</th>
<th>Metropolis</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Any committee may signify its desire to participate in the district plan in which it is located, but only when applying to enter quest.

It is planned that each district will conduct elimination contests.

To be eligible to participate in such a district plan, each candidate’s committee must have raised and forwarded the sum of £50 to the office of the Executive Director.

5. Qualifying Amount for State Adjudication
   The qualifying amount for a candidate to be eligible to appear before the Western Australian Adjudication Committee in Perth for selection will be £250, which must be in the office of the Executive Director before the closing date of the quest.

   (a) Committees Raising £250 or Over.—For each £250 forwarded to the office of the Executive Director, a committee will be entitled to present a candidate to appear before the Western Australian Adjudicating Committee in Perth.

   (b) Committees Raising Less Than £250.—Committees in each district which are operating under the R.S.S. & A.I.I.A. District Plan and have forwarded to the office of the Executive Director less than £250 each may pool their amounts, and for each £250 their district committee will select a candidate, who shall be eligible to appear before the Western Australian Adjudicating Committee in Perth. (Example: If twenty committees in one district forward an average amount of £100 each, that is £2,000, such district committee will select eight candidates, who will be eligible to appear before the Western Australian Adjudicating Committee in Perth.

Pares and accommodation expenses incurred by qualifying candidates during their visit to Perth for the adjudication period will be paid by the W.A. Board of Honorary Directors.

6. Allocation of Funds Raised by a Committee
   Any committee, if it so desires, may claim a rebate on the amount it raises on the following conditions:—

(a) If a committee is participating in an R.S.L. district plan—
(i) the first £50 raised will not carry any rebate;
(ii) any part of the second £50 raised may be claimed in full;
(iii) up to 50 per cent. of any amount raised over £100.

(b) If committee is not participating in an R.S.L. district plan, up to 50 per cent. may be claimed of the amount raised by such committee, provided such amount is not less than £250.

Any such claim for rebate must be made and organisation nominated by a committee when forwarding application form to participate in the quest and there can be no variation to this rule.

7.—Method of Selection of W.A. Representative for Miss Australia (1948)

An adjudication committee comprising a member of the medical profession, artist, sculptor, motion picture and theatrical executives, photographer, physical culturalist, educationalist and women's sporting personality, will make all State selections and the committee's decision will be final. The following attributes of all qualifying candidates will be the basis of selection: Beauty and Health—Department and Personality—Physique and Photogenic Possibilities—Education and Voice Culture—Artistic and Sporting Qualities.

8.—W.A. State Prizes

The following cash prizes will be awarded by the Western Australian Board of Honorary Directors to the candidates selected by the State Adjudication Committee:

- 1st Prize £200
- 2nd Prize £100
- 3rd Prize £50

9.—Closing Date

Quest will close on Tuesday, November 30, 1948, at 5 p.m.

Plans For Adoption of British Child Migrants

Australian families may soon be able to adopt British children brought here under official migration schemes. A proposal on these lines, backed by the Minister for Immigration (Mr. Arthur A. Calwell), has been submitted to the Home Office in London.

In his recommendation to the U.K. Government, Mr. Calwell has stated that he is agreeable to the children being adopted under certain strict provisions, including the following:

* That the child migration organisation which nominated the child is agreeable.
* That thorough investigations show that the persons wishing to adopt a child are fit and proper persons in all respects and that the adoption will be in the child's best interests, and
* That the appropriate authority in the United Kingdom is agreeable.

Mr. Calwell said recently: "Many Australian couples, some of them childless, are anxious to adopt British children—the best migrants Australia could possibly receive.

"This new proposal will widen the scope of child migration to Australia and will give these children the added advantage of beginning life anew as members of Australian families."

Children brought to Australia under child migration schemes are nominated in Australia by approved voluntary organisations and religious bodies, which are responsible for the upbringing, education and welfare of the children until they are old enough to take their places in the Australian community. Many of the children are orphans.

Under the Immigration (Guardianship of Children) Act, 1946, the Commonwealth Minister for Immigration is the legal guardian of all migrants under 21 except those who come to this country with, or join, parents and relatives. The corresponding authority in Britain is the Home Office.

Since planned migration began, 540 children nominated by voluntary organisations have arrived in Australia. Another 1,363 have accompanied their parents under the free or assisted passages schemes which began to operate little more than a year ago.

Report on Visit to Goldfields

By State Executive Members, Messrs. W. O. Mansbridge and W. S. Lonnie

State President and Members of the Executive.

I have to report that accompanied by Col. W. O. Mansbridge a tour of Goldfields sub-branches, was carried out over the period, 10th-17th June, 1948.

From Kalgoorlie, by courtesy of Mr. Alf Lyddon, the journey was completed by car. Others in the party were Mr. Paul Wood, of the Kalgoorlie Branch of the ABC and Mr. Bret Fresham, journalist of the Kalgoorlie Miner.

Due largely to the efforts of the latter gentleman, full and adequate publicity was given to our visit and to the proceedings at the various meetings. Members who are familiar with the district covered will appreciate the value of having our itinerary given as a daily news item throughout the district.

In this regard, letters of appreciation have been sent to Messrs. Wood and Fresham, and to others whose courtesy and assistance made the trip so successful.

Meetings were held at the following sub-branches: Kalgoorlie (Executive), Porphyry (new sub-branch), Laverton, Gwalia-Leonard, Menzies, Boulder (Executive).

Hereunder I submit a brief summary of the proceedings of each meeting.

Kalgoorlie

A very good, enthusiastic meeting, with many questions relating to the work of the State Executive. Two of the more important matters discussed being immigration and a proposal that the League should become more active on mining matters.

Porphyry

The opening of this sub-branch is a most meritorious performance on the part of the president, Mr. Hugh Gamble, and the secretary, Mr. W. Rome. The present membership of 10 represents practically 100 per cent. of eligible ex-servicemen on the mine. Sincere good wishes were extended to the new sub-branch on behalf of the State President and Executive.

Laverton

The meeting was of an informal nature, but a very warm welcome was extended to us. A pleasing feature was the handing over by the acting president, Mr. J. Cable, of a cheque of £30 to the War Memorial Appeal. This represents the full quota for this sub-branch. A number of matters were submitted to us for advice and attention on our return to Perth. This action has been taken.

Gwalia-Leonard

Attendance at this meeting was not large, but plenty of interest in League activities was manifest in the questions submitted. As in the other sub-branches visited, immigration and the League's part in mining activities appeared to be the matters of greatest concern.

Menzies

This sub-branch entertained us at a small but thoroughly enjoyable smoke social, preceding which a review of the achievements of the League over recent years was given. Great pleasure was expressed by local speakers at the presence of members of the State Executive.

Boulder

This meeting was marked by most vigorous questioning by members of the Boulder executive. Matters covered included Listening Post, migration, congress, Fresham, War Veterans' Home, canteen funds, etc. A pronounced drop in membership is occasioning the office-bearers considerable concern.

In general, the reception accorded to us was most gratifying and there can be little doubt that visits such as these are of great value in maintaining the unity of the League. In addition to the value of discussing problems at first hand, there is the further benefit of making known aspects of League activities which do not always receive the publicity they deserve.

As a result of my observations on this tour, I am of opinion that the League's interest and support for a vigorous immigration policy should be intensified even further. At Leonard, it was submitted by responsible speakers that there was a shortage of some 300 men on the main Gwalia mine. The same story was repeated in Kalgoorlie, where some 200 firewood cutters are required. On a conservative estimate it appears that a labour force of some 2,000 to 3,000 men is required for the Goldfields area.

Whilst at Kalgoorlie, the opportunity was taken to inspect the housing schemes of the Boulder Council, and also of the 2/28th Battalion Association. Both schemes are highly commendable, since both seek to provide a home which an ex-serviceman can purchase within a reasonable time. The 2/28th Battalion scheme, however, is a splendid example of co-operative work, which has resulted in 224 servicemen erecting their own homes in a community settlement at a reasonable cost. This cost will be comfortably defrayed in ten years at a modest weekly instalment. The organising ability and wise administration embodied in this scheme deserves the warmest congratulations of the League.

In regard to the League's interest in mining matters, this topic was raised at practically all meetings. There is, no doubt, a strong body of public opinion among Goldfields ex-servicemen that the League's influence behind mining requests would be of great value.

Following general discussions with sub-branch officials, considerable attention was given the following proposals, which were agreed upon:

1. The formation of an R.S.L. mining committee with headquarters at Kalgoorlie. Broadly, this committee to have the authority to represent ex-servicemen on any deputation, etc., which may be made to the various State and Federal ministers and other mining notabilities. (This proposal is to be examined by the combined officials of the Kalgoorlie and Boulder sub-branches.)

2. A special pre-congress session be set aside for mining matters. This to be on a basis similar to the existing procedure for land settlement matters.

My personal comment on items 1 and 2 is that both proposals appear to have considerable merit. I would suggest, however, that item 2 could be extended to ensure that all mining resolutions should be considered under

Minister's Grouch

Sub-Branches Urged to Follow Official Procedure

The Minister for Repatriation, Mr. H. C. Barnard, has complained to the Federal Executive of the League of the practice of some State Branches and sub-branches writing to him direct or to the Repatriation Commission or members of parliament on matters which have been or could be adequately submitted by the Federal Executive.

In such matters the proper procedure is for sub-branches to submit their requests to the State Executive with full details. These then come up for discussion at the next meeting of the Executive. If Federal action is necessary, the Federal Secretary is asked to take appropriate action. In many instances an approach to the local Commonwealth department concerned is sufficient and the relevant sub-committee or executive staff are able to deal with the matter on the spot.

Correct Procedure

Referring to the custom of the Federal Executive of submitting all resolutions of its meetings and those of the annual Federal congress to the Government, the Minister wrote:

"Every such resolution submitted is, of course, entitled to the fullest consideration possible. It is realised that in these matters your executive speaks for your organisation as a whole and that your representations are on behalf of your Commonwealth-wide membership."

The Minister instanced recent correspondence seeking an increase in medical subsistence payments to patients of repatriation hospitals. Letters on the subject had been reaching him daily for the past month from sub-branches in various parts of the Commonwealth.

"This mass of correspondence creates a hindrance and difficulty for the staff of my-office and the Repatriation Commission," the Minister declared.

No advantage was gained by sub-branches doing this, he added, and the writers of the letters were doing a disservice to their fellow members by delaying the submission of the views of the commission on the requests made.

For VALUE and Friendly Service!
Could one World Government stop the present

ATOMIC ARMAMENT RACE?

From a recent talk broadcast from the A.B.C. studio in Sydney by D. F. Martyn, of the Physics Department of the Sydney University.

We've all read many accounts of the probable horrors of an atomic war—the obliteration of whole cities in a few seconds, the millions of permanently maimed refugees, the probable monstrosities in the future children of survivors. To these must be added the destruction of arable land by radio-active dust, the starvation of whole peoples by destruction of their granaries.

I could go on like this for a long time.

"I could a tale unfold whose lightest word
Would harrow up thy soul."

If I don't do so, it's because the time has passed for such havoc crying. That time was in Act I. We're well into Act II now. The march of events is rapid, too quick for general appreciation, far quicker than the democratic processes of education.

Only a year ago the great majority of physicists were eagerly anticipating a new era of international collaboration—the breaking down of secrecy barriers—a vigorous constructive application of the newly-won energy.

In this year 1948, physicists are the spectators of a tragedy whose magnitude even Shakespeare could scarcely have conceived. The stage is the world itself, the actors are the leading statesmen of the Great Powers. The actors have been chosen by, and have the support of the millions of men in the street and on the land throughout the world. They are speaking their lines in the way their fans want them spoken. We are in the middle of the second Act. The theme of the play is clear. It is man's reaction to the discovery of how atomic energy can be released. In Act I we have been shown the characters of the leading dramatic personae. It is already obvious that the play is going to be a tragedy.

Physicists are Spectators

At the instant when the first atom bomb erupted in New Mexico, a military observer momentarily lost his nerve. "My God!" he breathed, "the long-hairs have lost control!" In civilian language this might be interpreted: "The physicists have miscalculated, and this thing will blow up the whole world." In that sense, he was wrong, but it's important to realise that only the accuracy of the physicists' calculations stood between us and that particular calamity. That danger may arise in other as yet unexplored ways.

The army officer was wrong in that way, but he was right in another. The physicists at that moment did lose control of further developments in atomic energy. That control passed into the hands of statesmen and their advisers, particularly their military advisers. That was inevitable.

Physicists now are mainly spectators of the unfolding tragedy. Occasionally we may be required back-stage to help shift the scenery—occasionally to prompt one of the leads. Yet we can't forget the ghost we saw in the first act; we know what mighty forces are waiting to be unleashed; and we know what hellish destruction they will cause if unleashed in anger.

We are desperately anxious to get this knowledge across to the millions of non-scientists who will ultimately decide the issue—the continuance of civilisation as we know it, or a return to the jungle, if there's any jungle left.

Neurosis Cases

R.S.L. Seeks Improved Treatment

In an effort to improve the condition and prospects of neurosis patients in repatriation hospitals, the R.S.L. has asked the Minister for Repatriation, Mr. Barnard, to incorporate provisions in the Repatriation Act for the following:

(a) Neurosis cases to be segregated from mental patients.
(b) Neurotics be approached by a welfare officer to ascertain their present or past interests, and that action be taken to re-establish them along these lines and by creation of further interests.
(c) When a patient in any institution, on the report of the medical officer of that institution, has sufficiently recovered to permit of his being allowed out, even on probation, action be taken to place him in a home with a good family environment.
(d) He be placed in suitable employment, or training be arranged to enable him to secure a position.

The Minister has replied that the request is receiving his consideration and that a further reply will be made as soon as possible.
4. Shipping has improved greatly and it was reported that there were now more ships than cargoes. Quotas in iron and steel are up to date.

5. Considerable increased supplies of basic materials should associate with the active migration policy now in operation so that supplies should increase rather than diminish.

6. The League stressed the need for faith in the future. With social security measures now being implemented, it is reasonable to expect a brighter future. The League was greatly concerned with the possibility of foreign tradesmen taking the places refused to our ex-servicemen.

7. In this State there was practically no difficulty in absorbing 40 per cent. trainees. It was important to note this in regard to the improving supply position.

8. In this State, 1,450 men await training; i.e., about half of approvals. Appeal for a more liberal outlook on part of committees based more on the improving position of the future than on depression of the past.

9. Constructive suggestions:
   (a) Introduction of project building for all building tradesmen in complete building of State homes.
   (b) More 40 per cent. trainees to be absorbed in State public works maintenance.
   (c) Wider proportion of trainees to journeymen.

Warning to Migrants

Unauthorised Private Agencies

The Australian High Commissioner in London, Mr. J. A. Beasley, recently issued the following warning to persons in Britain contemplating migration to Australia:

"I have read with regret that a number of people eager to migrate to Australia have paid money to a private organisation, apparently formed to assist persons to go to the Dominions.

"Instances have also come to my notice whereby private individuals have sought to capitalise on the official migration scheme between the United Kingdom and Australia, and they may lead intending migrants to believe that they have some authority or influence, which in fact they do not possess.

"So far as migration to Australia is concerned," the Immigration Department under the Chief Migration Officer at Australia House is the sole authority to deal with migration in the United Kingdom, apart from British Government departments concerned with the Australia-U.K. migration agreements.

"For the official scheme of settlement in Australia no private person or organisation is in a position to claim that he or it can help migrants to secure early passages, or do anything which cannot be done through the normal official channels."

Mr. Beasley explained that the Labour and National Service offices throughout the country received applications from ex-servicemen, and that anyone interested in migration to Australia should either seek information from those offices or write direct to the Chief Migration Officer at Australia House.

New Australians

Aid for Allied Veterans

Frenchmen, Dutchmen, Belgians, Norwegians and Danes, who fought for the Allies in World War II are entitled to apply for subsidised fares to Australia under the Commonwealth-encouraged immigration programme.

This has been approved by the Federal Cabinet. Previously the subsidised fares scheme applied to U.S. ex-servicemen only. (The U.K. Free and Assisted Passages Scheme is confined to former members of the U.K. Forces and people normally resident in the British Isles.)

The extension of the subsidised fares scheme covers men who fought in the resistance movements during the German-occupation, as well as men who served in the British Commonwealth or U.S. armed forces, and in the various merchant navies.

The Minister for Immigration, Mr. Calwell, announcing the Cabinet's decision, said that under the extended scheme, the Commonwealth would contribute up to 40 per cent. of the tourist class fare to Australia with a limit of £40 (stg.) for adult migrants; amounts ranging from £45 to 100 per cent. for the fares for dependant children would be paid, with a minimum of £17/10/- for eligible children and a maximum £35.

WE CALL BY APPOINTMENT
THE STATE EXECUTIVE

★ The State Executive of the League meets every second Wednesday and is comprised of representations from the various sub-branches who are elected at the Annual Congress. The Executive comprises 26 members—the State President, an Immediate Past President, two Vice-Presidents, three Trustees, one Country Vice-President and 18 elected members.

The State Executive meets at 5.30 p.m. and, after a tea adjournment, continues until the agenda is complete and on many occasions the meeting does not close until after 11 o'clock, which is a long time, considering that the members have already completed a full day's work at their own business.

It might interest readers to have some idea as to what takes place at an average meeting of the State Executive.

This is What Took Place at the Last Meeting of the State Executive

The numerous committees which carry out the detailed work of the executive submit a report, which is discussed. For instance, the Rehabilitation Committee, through its chairman, Mr. Tom Sten, submitted a report at a recent meeting which included items such as these:

Railway Department: Pay for Annual Leave Whilst on Active Service

For some time past your sub-committee has been investigating a particular case where such payment has been refused by the Commissioner for Railways. The whole case hinges on the interpretation of "temporary employee" and the relative privileges of temporary and permanent employees. Although legal opinion indicates that there is no hope of sustaining the claim in this instance, your sub-committee proposes, in view of the principle involved, to refer the matter to the Minister for Railways.

Education Department: School Inspectorships

Recently applications were called for the appointment of three inspectors of schools and a superintendent of secondary education. In view of our disappointment when previous vacancies were filled, a letter has been sent to the Public Service Commissioner, expressing the hope that due preference will be given to ex-servicemen when these new appointments are being made.

Land Committee, submitted by Mr. H. A. Leslie: A questionnaire dated May 28, 1948, which had been sent to applicants for properties by the War Service Land Settlement Board requesting information concerning their applications was considered by the committee. Exception was taken to the concluding paragraph, which read: "If a reply to the above question is not received within 30 days, it will be assumed that you are no longer interested in obtaining property under the War Service Land Settlement Scheme."

It was felt that the impression might be gained by some of the applicants who received the circular after the expiration of the 30 days that they were no longer eligible to participate in the scheme. It was resolved that the Land Board be approached and asked that, when communicating with applicants in the future, no such similar statements be made.

Land Settlement and Production

A letter was received from the Kojonup sub-branch urging that the League support the State Government in any effort to increase the production on existing farm units which are at present not developed to an economic proposition by the introduction of a scheme to survey the maximum potential output of these sub-standard farms, and to place them immediately on a sound economic basis. It is suggested that the finance should be made.

available by the State or Commonwealth Governments on the basis of a long-term, non-interest bearing loan, with no capital repayments for at least ten years. It was submitted that a scheme of this nature would not only increase production immediately, but would ensure that these farmers and their families stayed on the land. It was resolved that the committee endorse the views put forward by the Kojonup sub-branch and that, subject to executive approval, the subject be submitted to the Minister for Lands.

Membership Committee

Membership Committee, submitted by Mr. Chaney: Recommendations were received from the following country centres seeking permission to establish sub-branches of the League: Porphyry (revived), Broomhill (revived), Popanyinning (revived) and Rockingham (seceded from Rockingham-Safety Bay sub-branch). It is interesting to note that during the past year 16 new or revived sub-branches have been added to the register. These sub-branches are: Wittenoom Gorge, Bellevue, Forrestfield, Ex-Service Women, Porphyry, Rockingham, Broomhill, Popanyinning, Bolgart, Kensington, Bunji-Caron, Highgate, Roleystone, Augusta, Bindoon and Coorow. Stress was laid on the importance of increasing the number of sub-branches and thereby reducing the membership of the larger sub-branches. A suggestion was made that the State Executive should take up the matter of the unauthorised use by unfinancial members of the League badge, and that the State Executive should write to non-members demanding the return of their badge.

Immigration

Immigration, submitted by Mr. A. Yeates: A reply has been received from the Minister for Immigration, concerning resolution No. 37, which reads: "that the Minister for Immigration be urged to secure a larger proportion of immigrants suitable as farm labourers, particularly of the type of Balts."

He stated in his reply that displaced persons from Europe who come to Australia as migrants are not recruited for any particular occupation, but are selected from amongst those who have volunteered to undertake unskilled work found for them in this country. The main classification sought are physical fitness and general suitability for settlement. At present, these new settlers are dealt with individually by the officers of the Commonwealth Employment Service, who act as agents for the Immigration Department in placing people in employment. He points out that, to up to the present, the majority of these migrants have been placed in essential industries associated with the production of building materials and public developmental works. It is hoped in the near future that many more of these migrants will be placed on farms, particularly those already married who, in some cases, have one or two children. Your committee recommends that the distribution of the immigration brochures recently printed be made to sub-branch secretaries for redistribution to ex-service men immigrants in their respective districts and that a supply be made available also to Point Walter Camp. In addition, it is felt that a notice of welcome be printed, showing the location of Anzac House, and also sub-branches throughout the State, and be placed at Point Walter Camp.

Education of Migrants

It is recommended that representation...
tions be made through the State Immigration Department, recommending that: (1) An Australian Commonwealth officer be appointed to accompany each shipload of immigrants from their port of embarkation in the United Kingdom, with a view to giving them an understanding of conditions in Australia; and (2) that films depicting various phases of life and conditions in Australia be shown on migrant ships for the same purpose.

Amelioration relief disclosed that during the past fortnight the sum of £24 had been disbursed for the purchase of food and clothing for necessary ex-servicemen.

Donations

Donations: The R.S.L. Trading Co-op., donated the sum of £50 to the amelioration fund of the League and the estate of the late P. A. Connolly paid a legacy of £200 towards the War Veteran's Home account. There is usually a considerable amount of correspondence received from the Federal Office in Melbourne which calls for careful consideration and action. As a rule the correspondence is handed over to the various sub-committees.

National Airport at Guildford

At a previous meeting of the State Executive, a request had been forwarded to the Minister for Air, asking that a national airport be established in Western Australia at Guildford. The Minister's reply was received at last night's meeting of the executive, in which he stated that the international airports of entry and departure must necessarily be limited in number and selected carefully so that they serve best the normal corridors used by aircraft arriving in and departing from Australian territory. Aircraft entering Australian territory must land at an airport designated by Australia for the purpose of customs, health and immigration examinations. The Commonwealth, as a member of the International Civil Aviation Organisation, is obliged to maintain such national airports at such standards as will ensure that they are safe to be used by large aircraft under all conditions. The Minister pointed out that there appeared to be no immediate prospect of Guildford being required for use as the first port of call by regular international air services and that it should be retained as a customs airport only. This matter was raised by the League following the incident where an American aircraft arrived at Guildford direct from Batavia, which was a contravention of the Australian requirements, which require that aircraft entering Australia from the north-west use the international airport at Darwin as their first port of entry.

These are some of the items which are dealt with at a normal State Executive meeting, and they should serve to illustrate that the State parliament of the League does function, and that it is discharging its duty to its members and to the community to the utmost of its ability.

16th BATTALION AND 4th BRIGADE ASSOCIATION

Members of the 16th Battalion will read with regret of the death in Adelaide of Frank Munro, original Sergeant-Major of "D" Coy. His death occurred on Sunday, July 6, and he was 78 years of age. Many of our members met him recently whilst attending the Anzac march in Adelaide. A wreath was ordered on behalf of our association.

At Anzac House

Sub-Branch Officials Meet

Retention by the R.S.L. of the controlling interest in the "Miss Australia" Competition and that the League's share of proceeds be placed to the credit of the War Veterans' Home Fund, were approved by a meeting of sub-branch presidents and secretaries in the board room at Anzac House on June 29. There were 31 delegates present and the State Executive was represented by Messrs. Stch (Senior Vice-President), Davies (Jjior Vice-President), Leslie, Mansbridge, Chaney and Stahl. The State President, Mr. W. J. Hunt, was in the chair.

The unauthorised use by unfinancial members of the R.S.L. badge was discussed and it was agreed that non-financial members be asked to return their badges.

Delegates were of the opinion that some sub-branches with large membership rolls could conveniently be reduced by increasing the number of sub-branches.

The next meeting will be held in Anzac House on September 14.

Members of the corresponding British body, the Royal Artillery Association, have been invited to submit their names for nomination and sub-branches of the League in Western Australia are asked to help by finding members who are willing to give the necessary guarantees of accommodation and employment. EX-SERVICE MIGRANTS RECEIVE R.S.L. HAND OF FELLOWSHIP

“The Returned Servicemen’s League extends to you the hand of fellowship and welcome,” is the first greeting to British ex-service migrants from the W.A. Branch after their arrival at Fremantle. A small brochure, prepared by the immigration committee of the State Executive, and containing all sorts of information, opens with the words quoted. A copy of this is handed to each ex-service migrant.

There are ten pages packed with information about Perth and other towns, the principal beauty spots, primary and secondary industries, distances from Perth by air and rail, to all inland towns and details of the history and activities of the R.S.L. including a directory of the headquarters of the League in each State, the A.C.T., Northern Territory, New Guinea and Papua. A handy list of telephone numbers of Government departments with which migrants might have to do business, is printed on the back cover.

GEORGE WISE recently took over the management of the Captain Stirling Hotel and passed away suddenly and most unexpectedly last month.

He was a stalwart of the League. Prior to taking over the Captain Stirling, he was for many years at Wyalkatchem, where he did a wonderful job for the League. Among his outstanding efforts was that of raising £500 of a total of £1,320 in an "Ugly Man" competition for prisoner-of-war funds. In addition to that he gave substantial financial assistance to the branch, building fund, and at the time of his death was still a vice-president of the Wyalkatchem sub-branch.

He was a member of the old 51st Battalion, saw service on Gallipoli and in France.

L. H. (TED) RICE was another stalwart of the League who passed away last month after a lengthy period of ill-health, which compelled him to retire from the services of the Bank of New South Wales.

Ted was a wheel-belt identity and watched pioneering of the Mt. Marshall district, was secretary and president respectively for many years of the Mt. Marshall sub-branch and the driving force in keeping that sub-branch on its toes. Later became secretary of the Wyalkatchem sub-branch, where he did further good work. Was secretary of the No. 2 District Committee and, in recognition of his services to the League, was appointed a country vice-president.

State Congress

Deadline for Agenda Motions,

July 26

The annual State congress of the W.A. Branch of the R.S.L. will be opened by the Lieut.-Governor, Sir James Mitchell, in Anzac House, Perth, on September 28 at 7.30 p.m. The land section conference will begin on Monday, September 27, at 11 a.m., and the opening session of the general congress at 9.30 o'clock on the following Wednesday morning.

Sub-branch officials are reminded that all motions for inclusion in the agenda and nominations of office-bearers must be in the hands of the State Secretary by noon on Monday, July 26.

New Militia Units’ C.O.'s Entertained By R.S.L.

The State President (Mr. W. J. Hunt) and the State Executive tendered a reception to the newly appointed commanding officers of the Militia units, in respect of which recruiting has been commenced.

The League has always stood for an adequate defence force, and it was felt that it was the duty of the League to ensure that the fullest support and co-operation would be available in the forming of the new Militia units. The League is convinced that whilst the voluntary system of militia training is entirely inadequate, nevertheless it is the next best thing to compulsory training, which has been proved to be the only adequate means of ensuring that the country is prepared to meet emergencies when they arise.

These points were stressed by the various speakers. The experiences of the last two wars have proved that whilst the Militia provided a very effective and efficient nucleus for training the fighting forces, nevertheless the risk is too great in these modern times, as no official declarations of war are made. The blow is struck without warning. The delay in getting the war machines geared up to full production, as to manpower and materials is a grave danger to the nation.

These facts were fully stressed and appreciated, both by the speakers and the guests.

Gallipoli Mission

Making a belated appearance, but none the less of absorbing interest on that account, "Gallipoli Mission," by Dr. C. E. W. Bean, Australian Official Historian of World War I, is the story of a search of the famous battlefields for evidence of the fighting still to be found there three years after the Gallipoli campaign of 1915.

The searchers included the late George Lambert, the noted painter; Captain Hubert Wilkins, the famous explorer; Mr. Cyril Hughes, who later was placed in charge of war cemeteries in the Middle East; and several other well-known Australians, in addition to the author.

Their inquiries involved a close association with Zeke Bey, a trusted subordinate of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, afterwards the dictator and President of the Turkish Republic. In the story, early hints, noted in the Taurus Mountains and elsewhere, are revealed of the revolution which was to make Turkey a modern State. Some of the origins, too, of the wonderful and beautiful plan of the Gallipoli graveyards are touched on.

As Seen by Turks

The author was fortunate in obtaining the assistance of a young intelligence officer, Lieut. Hedley Vicars Howe, who was in the landing as a private in the company commanded by Major (later Brig.-General) E. A. Drake-Brockman, of 11th Battalion, A.I.F. Young Howe had a lively recollection of the first day's fighting at Anzac and could identify his landing place and the direction of the first thrusts.

This book provides for all Australians who were privileged to serve in the Gallipoli campaign, and to their ex-Imperial comrades of the British 9th Division, a moving picture of events from day to day as seen from the Turkish side of No-Man's Land throughout the campaign.

To the younger men of World War II, the author's name may convey little more than that of a person associated with Australia's part in the history of World War I. He is the son of an Australian schoolteacher, but he was himself educated mainly in England. He became a schoolmaster, judge's associate, barrister and journalist. In 1914 he was appointed Official War Correspondent with the 1st A.I.F. after selection by his fellow journalists throughout Australia.

While in France Dr. Bean was largely responsible for the original conception of the Australian War Memorial.

On his return to Australia he was entrusted, free from censorship, with the editing and main authorship of the Australian Official History of that war. The work occupied 23 years.

Dr. Bean has been prominent in Australian efforts for achieving better international understanding, better education, national fitness and the provision of amenities and training for leisure.

The Question

When we mention things important

At the meetings of the League,

We are often told we ought not

Though the matters might intrigue,

It is said that they would savour

Rather much of politics,

And might put us in disfavour

Or bring us a lot of kicks.

We should never link the movement

With a party, right or left,

For we would not find improvement,

But of prestige be bereft.

Yet a question we must settle

‘Ere the nation strikes the rocks—

This will put us on our mettle,

And may even give us shocks.

Should we let the politicians

Change the laws we think are right,

Or ignore the old traditions,

And yet not put up a fight?

If a section of the nation,

Be they workers or elite,

Should resolve to use dictation

And the country's laws defeat?

Shall we drift along heedless,

While all work is paralysed

And our freedom, now receding,

By the oligarchs denied?

We have fought against oppressors

In the sands and jungles dread,

Shall we allow transgressors,

To oppose our purpose here?

There is only one decision,

We must guard the nation's life,

And debate with broader vision

All that causes fear and strife.

R.A.A.F. Forming Citizen Air Force Squadrions

Progressive steps have been made by the R.A.A.F. towards forming the post-war Citizen Air Force. Selection of C.A.F. personnel (who will comprise 60 per cent. of the strength of the C.A.F. squadrons) is now under way.

The four C.A.F. fighter squadrons which the Minister for Air (Mr. Drakeford) previously announced as being projected have now been formed: They are No. 21, City of Melbourne Squadron, at Laverton (Vic.); No. 22, City of Sydney Squadron, at Bankstown (N.S.W.); No. 23, City of Brisbane Squadron, at Archerfield (Q.); and No. 25, City of Perth Squadron, at Pearce (W.A.).

Since their formation, each squadron has received training and operational aircraft to fill the present unit establishment. The number of aircraft will be increased proportionately as the number of the C.A.F. personnel increases.

To set the four squadrons on an active footing, the R.A.A.F. has already allocated 114 officers and men of the Permanent Air Force, including the newly appointed commanding officers. These P.A.F. personnel represent portion of the 40 per cent. Permanent Air Force, which, with the 60 per cent. C.A.F. volunteers, will comprise the personnel strength of the Citizen Air Force.

Enlistment for the C.A.F. will be effected by the appropriate area headquarters, and to facilitate speedy re-constitution of the Citizen Air Force squadrons, preference will be given to trained ex-R.A.A.F. personnel. In regard to pilots, preference will be given to those with operational experience in fighter aircraft and under the age of 25 years at the date of entry into the C.A.F. However, outstanding pilots up to the age of 30 may be accepted, and a pilot with the requisite qualifications and additional experience as an A1 or A2 flying instructor may be accepted up to the age of 35.

All pilots of the C.A.F. will be commissioned officers, and ex-R.A.A.F. officers will enter with the substantive rank of flying officer, except in the case of an officer demobilised as a pilot officer. The latter will enter as a pilot officer.

Medical officers will be accepted up to 35 years of age at the temporary rank of flight lieutenant.

Airmen entrants who have not had previous service experience will be listed as A.C.I or A.C. Recruit, dependent upon trade qualifications. There will be no A.C.2 rank.

An ex-R.A.A.F. sergeant or above, if enlisted in his former mustering, will hold the rank of substantive corporal on enlistment. In the same manner, an ex-R.A.A.F. corporal or LAC will be granted the substantive rank of LAC. However, should an ex-R.A.A.F. airman enlist in a mustering other than that held during his previous service, he will be granted the rank of LAC on enlistment, providing he passes a trade test in the new mustering with a minimum pass of 80 per cent. Generally, the rates of pay will conform to the daily rates payable under P.A.F. conditions. Marriage allowances, but not provision allowance, will be payable.

Free transportation to place of duty is provided and free initial issue of uniform clothing will be made. No uniform allowance will be payable as uniforms can be exchanged free.

The period of training in the C.A.F., for both officers and airmen, is two years, comprising 52 days home training per annum, or 36 days' home training and 16 days' continuous training per annum. On completion of the two years in the active Citizen Air Force, each member will serve five years in the Reserve.

R.A.A.F. WELFARE TRUST FUND

The Governor-General (Mr. McKeil) has appointed Air Marshal G. Jones, chairman of trustees of the newly formed R.A.A.F. Welfare Trust Fund. Other trustees appointed are:

Mr. Roderick Ross, consulting engineer; Mr. Reginald R. Radford, company director and ex-R.A.A.F. Group Captain; Staff-Chaplain Group Captain Raymond C. Russell, of the R.A.A.F.; Warrant Officer N. T. Mort, of the R.A.A.F.; and Mrs. E. A. Daley, wife of Air Commodore Daley, Director-General, Medical Services, R.A.A.F.

The R.A.A.F. Welfare Trust Fund will make provision for the maintenance, welfare, the advancement of, or the granting of assistance to former members and members of the R.A.A.F. who served prior to 3rd September, 1939, and subsequent to 30th June, 1947, and the families and dependents of such members and former members, including deceased members, who are in need and deserving of assistance.

This new fund will provide for members not eligible for Canteens Services Trust Fund benefits which provide only for members of the R.A.A.F. who served between 3rd September, 1939, and 30th June, 1947, and the dependents of such members.

Committees are being appointed for the administration of the new fund and will function in all States and the Northern Territory.

Guildford Airport
International Status Refused

The Minister for Air, Mr. Drakeford, has rejected a suggestion which originated from the W.A. Branch of the League for the gazettal of Guildford as an international airport.

“The incident in which an American aircraft recently landed at Guildford direct from Batavia was a contravention of the Australian regulations, which require that aircraft entering Australia from the North-West use the international airport at Darwin as their first port of entry,” Mr. Drakeford explained in a letter to the Federal Secretary, Mr. J. C. Neagle: “An inter-departmental conference upon which certain Australian international airline companies were represented recently examined the need for an international airport in the Perth area. As there appeared to be no immediate prospect of Guildford being required for use as the first port of call by regular international air services, it was decided that it should be retained as a customs airport only. This permits its use for the handling of under bond freight carried on the domestic services.”

“There are many airports established within Australia for the use of domestic services. The number of these designated as international airports of entry and departure for the use of international aircraft must be necessarily limited in number and selected carefully so that they serve best the normal corridors used by aircraft arriving in or departing from Australian territory. It is a national requirement that aircraft entering Australian territory must land at an airport designated by Australia for the purpose of customs, health and immigration examinations. On departure from Australia such an aircraft must depart from a similar designated airport.

“There is an obligation on the Commonwealth as a member of the International Civil Aviation Organisation that international airports within Australia shall be maintained to standards which will ensure that they are safe for use by large aircraft under all conditions. The cost to the Commonwealth Government of their establishment and maintenance is high because, in addition to the landing areas and runways to be provided, air traffic control and communications facilities need to be established to an international standard. In addition buildings and facilities need to be provided for the use by the customs, health and immigration officials in the handling of international passengers and freight.”

WOOROOLOO

The annual meeting of the above sub-branch was held on June 15, at 8 p.m. The retiring president (Mr. Bert Cornford), after outlining the work of the sub-branch for the past 12 months and referring to the difficulty sometimes experienced in getting members to come along to monthly meetings, thanked the secretary and treasurer for their co-operation in continuing the work of the sub-branch. The president, having been in office for two years, was not eligible for re-election and, after declaring all offices vacant, was elected to occupy the chair for the remainder of the evening. Mr. Noel Banks, 262/264 M.G. and P.O.W., World War II, was elected president; Mr. C. H. Bardon, World War II, was elected vice-president. The genial Mr. Syd Evans did not seek re-election to the position of secretary and Mr. H. Appleton, World War II, was elected to the combined office of secretary-treasurer, Messrs. Westley and Wishart, of World Wars I and II respectively were re-elected auditors. Messrs. Regan, White and Wishart, of World War II, and E. Woods and S. Woods, of World War I, were elected on a social committee. A very welcome visitor, who also became a member, was Sister Mummy, of the Sanatorium staff, Wooroloo. Sister Mummy left Western Australia for service overseas very early in 1940, and served with the 2/2nd A.G.H. At the conclusion of business the members spent a very happy hour with a little harmony, accompanied by the cup that cheers and musical items by Bill Regan (banjoist) and Jack White (guitar). The sub-branch organised a ball, which took place on Tuesday, June 19, and was held in the Wooroloo Hall. The object of the ball was to raise funds for blinded ex-servicemen and the R.L. Food for Britain Appeal. The result exceeded all expectations and the president and members are sincerely grateful to all who helped in any way to make the night the magnificent success it proved to be. The profit from the evening exceeded £40.

BULLSBROOK

Owing to the Bullsbrook Hall being engaged for the 5th June sub-branch held their annual meeting on June 12. There was rather a small attendance due to the distance some members have to travel. After the business had been attended to, there was a short election of officials. The retiring secretary and treasurer were unopposed and they were heartily applauded for standing for another term.

year. One pound was donated to them in appreciation of their good work. The officers of our sub-branch are: Mr. R. Rickitt, president; Messrs. A. C. Walker, treasurer; and E. W. P. Howes, secretary. The members of the sub-branch are: Messrs. K. Jones, T. W. Rowse, and W. C. Langley. The sub-branch has been very active in recent months and has been successful in bringing in new members.

FREMANTLE CITY

At our general meeting on June 3 we had as our guest the president of the other sub-branch, Mr. B. W. Walker. The latter was, of course, very much at home, being a sub-branch member and able to attend the meeting. We passed the following resolution in his absence: "That the consumption of alcoholic liquors is a great sin and that it is the duty of all members of the sub-branch to abstain from its use."

The meeting was well attended and a number of new members were elected. The sub-branch has been successful in bringing in new members and has been very active in recent months.

VICTORIA PARK

Our annual meeting was held on Friday, June 5, 1948, at the Victoria Park Hotel. The meeting was well attended and a number of new members were elected. The sub-branch has been very active in recent months and has been successful in bringing in new members.

BROOKTON

For your information, our annual general meeting of this sub-branch was held on May 27, 1948, at the Bedford Hotel. The meeting was well attended and a number of new members were elected. The sub-branch has been very active in recent months and has been successful in bringing in new members.

GLOUCESTER PARK

Our July meeting was very poorly attended. Why? Because you have lost interest? If so, I suggest that you all get "re-invigoration" treatment and get back to normal. The sub-branch is here to help you. To do this, we have arranged another meeting for the second Friday of each month. All members are invited to attend.

MOORA

The celebration of Anzac Day differed this year from those of other years, in that advances were made. The sub-branch donated two memorial plaques on the local war memorial in honour of those men from the Moora district who fell during the War. The unveiling ceremony took place on April 25, 1948, at the Moora War Memorial. The sub-branch president, Mr. R. Rickitt, unveiled the plaques, made a short but inspiring address, and laid the foundation stone. The sub-branch has been very active in recent months and has been successful in bringing in new members.
The annual Anzac Ball, conducted by the Women's Auxiliary of the B.B.S. branch on May 15, 1948, was a complete success from both financial and social points of view. A large crowd of dancing enthusiasts attended from surrounding districts and enjoyed the programme of old-time and modern dances, arranged and played for by Bates Bros. orchestra from Perth. The programme, printed, arranged, and conducted by the sub-branch, was the highlight of the evening. At 2.30 hours, the stage was cleared and a special pre-fabricated "walk-around" was rapidly placed in position. The programme of popular numbers appeared, one by one, and, as they were presented and the model they were displaying and the designer announced, they were presented up by a spotlight. With suitable background music each mannequin displayed her ensemble with charm and perfect poise. The audience filled the hall and stood in rows from the entrance doors to the stage awaiting the models' appearance. In place of appearance the mannequins were: "Pedal Pushers," Ralph Ivey; "Beech Waist," Charlie Bessette; "Sports Wear," Ron Knox; "New Look," Emie Ricketts; "Foundation Garment," Johnny Warrillow; "Underwear," Tom Law; "Kneelers," Claude Cundyken; "House Frock," Gordon Weller; "Bridal" Len Purcell; "Flower Girl," Roy Walshe; "Bride," Brian Gibbons; "Train-Bearers," Mary Grieve. The women's auxiliary did their usual excellent job in the supper room, where tables were set up and decorated with flowers and a wonderful array of buffet dishes were set up. The balance sheet presented at the first meeting showed a total receipts of £91 15 7. Good attendances continued to be a feature of sub-branch meetings and quite a large volume of business has been handled during recent months. The July meeting will take the form of a social evening, when members of the women's auxiliary will be entertained. A feature of the evening will be a feature with "women in the home work a 40-week week" as subject.

VICTORIA PARK

At the annual meeting held recently the following were elected to office: President, Mrs. Amos; vice-presidents, Madam Tolle and Taylor; hon. secretary, Mrs. Prue; treasurer, Mrs. McNaughton; Honorary Members, Misses C. Greville, Harney and Samwell; hospital visitors, Madam Keady and Woman; social committee, Madam Tolle, Carter, Harney, Samwell, Kerridge, Windsor and Guilford. Stock thrives when fed on meal

THE SUNFEED GRINDING MILL

- Grinds Maize, Wheat and all other dry grains.
- Grinds Maize and Cob together — a highly nutritious stock feed.
- There is a saving of grain by feeding it to stock in meal form instead of as whole grain, and when cob and corn are ground up together, the utmost feeding value is utilised.

The SUNFEED is a small, low-priced, all-metal mill; simple in design; strong, well balanced and most efficient. It is easily adjusted for regulating the feed and fineness. Safety break-pins avoid damage should any foreign substance get into the Mill. Also, a break-pin in the adjusting yoke protects the grinding plates. The quantity of output depends upon the fineness of grinding, ranging from about 8 bushels per hour of fine meal up to 25 bushels per hour of coarse meal. Different kinds of grain also would vary the output.

AVAILABLE IN TWO MODELS:

The Sunfeed Grinding Mill is available in two models—the Standard Model, No. 1, and the High Model, No. 2. The Sunfeed Mill enjoys a great reputation; thousands have been supplied to Dairy, Pig and Mixed Farmers.
