STATE PRESIDENT'S 1986 ANZAC DAY SPEECH

Your Excellency, Professor Gordon Reid and Mrs Reid, Distinguished Guests, Members of the Armed Services, Assembled Veterans, Ladies and Gentlemen, Boys and Girls, Viewers and Listeners throughout Western Australia.

Today we commemorate the 71st Anniversary of the Landing at Gallipoli. The Dawn Service this morning saw His Excellency The Governor, Representatives of both the Federal and State Governments, Service Chiefs, Civic Leaders, Members of the Diplomatic and Consular Services and the general public, laying wreaths at the State War Memorial, where the names of all West Australians in all conflicts up to and including Vietnam, who gave their lives in order that we may enjoy the freedom that many take for granted today, are perpetuated. I would like to thank the thousands of men, women and children, who attended that solemn and moving ceremony. It is estimated that in excess of 4000 attended.

Before proceeding further, I would like to announce the winners of the 1986 ANZAC Awards.

The tradition of ANZAC has, over the years, become a part of the Australian history. We perpetuate this tradition and commemorate its origin in many ways, but principally by the National Commemoration of ANZAC Day on 25th April each year.

In 1979, the Returned Services League introduced the ANZAC Awards as yet another way in which the tradition of ANZAC, and all for which it stands, might be given both a contemporary and enduring significance.

Two types of Award were established. THE ANZAC PEACE PRIZE to recognise any outstanding effort by an Australian Citizen who has promoted the concept of International understanding and, in doing so, has made a contribution to World Peace. THE ANZAC OF THE YEAR AWARD recognises the efforts and achievements of up to seven Australians who have given service to their fellow Australians, and to the community, in a positive and compassionate manner. This award recognises the efforts of those who are outstanding, even in the pursuit of what might appear to be a routine activity.

The winner of the prestigious RSL ANZAC Peace Prize for 1986, and the winner of the seven RSL ANZAC Awards, were announced in Canberra by the National President of the Returned Services League of Australia, Sir William Keys, on 24th April, 1986.

The winner of the ANZAC PEACE PRIZE is DR. DAVID JOHNSON DAVID of South Australia, and of the seven ANZAC of the Year Awards this year, I am pleased to announce that one is a West Australian. He is MR MERVYN JAMES ANDRE of Esperance, W.A. Our best wishes and congratulations go to him and the other worthy recipients of these awards.

The word 'peace' of course, has different meanings for different organisations and individuals; the RSL believes it is not merely the absence of conflict - it means, also, the satisfaction of basic human needs such as food, shelter, health and education, but most importantly of all, guaranteed freedom, justice and civil liberties. No word has been more the subject of platitudes than the word "peace". We all want peace - none more than those who have seen the tragedy, the brutality, and the sacrifice of war.

State President's 1986 Anzac Day Speech

It is so easy to speak in glowing terms of the needs for peace, the beauty of peace, and the benefits of peaceful peace, especially when the cause is as noble as the one we serve. The problem is that the cause is so noble and it is always easy for the noblest to fall to the wayside. The question then for the noblest is whether or not he is going to the noblest. The RSL says no, we believe that the world needs love, learned, and prepared to develop it. We live in a troubled and unstable world—a world that can be transformed by the expansion of a new IDEOLOGIES, by the means of being turned to political PANIC. This answer is for the men and women who are too many to mention. Disarmament is a natural progression in the tradition of peace and the need for healing. Here again, disarmament is not only a matter of survival, but is a matter of strength. Disarmament is the superpower, which must be the cornerstone of a new disarmament program. It requires a balanced program of non-aggression which harmonizes withnational. It should be supplemented by a long-range program to ensure such understanding is maintained. The recent Summit between the US President and the USSR Party Secretary, while producing that the way to progress towards disarmament, has also begun the process of negotiation and discussion between the superpowers that is a prerequisite to a meaningful disarmament program.

The other requirement for peace, of course, is the removal of those things that tend to conflict. This means removing the economic and financial fabric of the world, and the peace that is required. Undeveloped countries can develop their own resources and gradually educate their own people, to diminish the need for military establishments. This means removing the economic and financial fabric of the world. The means that now exist to promote peace are the means that are available.

We all yearn for peace. The great problem is that so often we talk of peace as part of their name, close their eyes to the reality of the world. The answer to this is for free and free nations, to be strong enough to deter aggression and to cope with terrorism. Disarmament is a natural progression in the tradition of peace and the need for healing. Here again, disarmament is not only a matter of survival, but is a matter of strength. Disarmament is the superpower, which must be the cornerstone of a new disarmament program. It requires a balanced program of non-aggression which harmonizes withnational. LEAGUE WELCOMES WAR HERO

The week before Anzac Day was a week to remember for ex-POWs who worked on the Thailand-Burma railway in World War II. “Weary” Dunlop was in town.

In some quarters “Weary” is now referred to as Sir Edward, CMG, CBE, MB, BS, FRCS, FRACS, FACS, FACS (Hon) and Australian of the Year (1977). But to those who knew him on the railway he will always be “Weary”. The late Donald Stuart described him as: “He gave us of his strength; a lighthouse of sanity in a universe of suffering and madness.”

The men would do anything for him and are proud to be with him. Jack Martin, in his presence, finds this body of men from mental decay, in other circumstances, what they can only mean in admiration. He is a big man - some six feet four inches - and a most skilful surgeon. Simple, profoundly altruistic, with a gentle disarming smile. This selflessness, this smile, commands more from the men than an army of officers waving a Manual of Military Law.

The main reason for “Weary” being here was to launch, at a Tuesday night dinner, a medical exchange between Australia and Thailand.

This is to be a “working memorial” to all who died on the infamous railway and will also remember the work done by doctors and the clandestine help of the Free Thai movement. It is named after “Weary” and Boon Pong (a Thai agent who smuggled in medicine and medicines to prison camps) - two men of different nations who epitomised what was finest in the human spirit in the face of other circumstances.

In welcoming him “Banjo” Binstead, of the ex-2/3 Machine Gunners, recalled how one of his army mates had once said to him: “I realise that Dunlop must have been a great doctor, but you blokes treat him as though he was Christ himself.” I told him, “He was not Christ but, to us, he walked only one step behind.” In fact, once when I was delirious with malaria I thought I saw Christ and “Weary” was near by and my bed. (You could trust Banjo to see he got the best of attention when he needed it).

Banjo got “Weary” to present a 2/3 MG Bn colour patch plaque for the Anzac House bar. In receiving it, State President J. Hall said: “Weary” Dunlop at an Anzac House reception for Sir Edward.

SELF RELIANCE IN AUSTRALIAN DEFENCE

That was the theme of an address given at the Sandwich Luncheon in Anzac House on April 16th by Commodore Malcolm Baird AM R.A.N., Naval Officer in Command, Western Australia.

"Now, more than ever, Australia, a lonely island on the edge of the world, has to be more strongly self reliant in defence" Commodore Baird says, "self-reliance is the keynote of our theme.

Almost all the ships we have been engaged in new found the Australian combat hard to be had here. This is clearly because of our isolation, and because the political thinking led us to believe that we had to rely on others. This had been to have us, soldiers in the field, American and British, and the many things which Australia was not able to provide for its troops and for which we relied too much upon our line.

Whether it was the radio equipment in support of our troops during the Vietnam War, control problems in the development of our nuclear weapons, or even the lack of a common language between the different services, the Royal Australian Navy has always had to rely on others.

"At the end of the week there was $20,000 in the kitty towards a target figure of $100,000 towards the Exchange Fellowship. Just over $332 of this came from a whipround at the rum-and-eggs breakfast, another $500 came from the Perth sailbrunch, $538 entered by the West Australian Government, $400 for the Anzac Day breakfast, $500 bedecked into the Queensland Government, and about $6000 from the Opera House dinner and the auction of the Australian Big Parade."

"President Jim Hall also paid tribute to 'Weary'. The plaque he gave would be engraved "Presented by Weary Dunlop" and be put on special display in the Hall room. Jim was 'honoured' 'Weary' by inviting him to lay the wreaths at the Dawn Service and to march in the head of the Anzac Day parade."

"On Thursday night, 'Weary' (who, by the way, commemorates the date he flew off in 10 AG in 1918) arrived for the night in Perth. His accommodation in carpentry bud, with the intention of getting his home and his A1-22 home for Anzac Day on the morrow. The day included the Sam Dinner Service, attending a dinner at the Stirling Pavilion, marching in the Anzac Day parade, a reception of Council House and separate gatherings in the St and 9th hotels.

"However, 'Weary' was led onto the prime part of the evening with more women and more alcohol. He didn't come home until 2:30 to lay out his medals but was up at 4:15 singing under the shower. The days have gone when 'Weary' did not get home under the shower."

"The report by Paul Dibbs, now being studied by the Minister, is another measure of our newspapers' self reliance. Notwithstanding the political grandstanding which the report will engender, I expect Dibbs to stimulate greater respect for Australia and our capability to defend ourselves than was possible, even as recently as 10 years ago.

"The days have gone when the three Services worked together as a nation, or even had to work together. The days have gone when each of the Services was able to provide for its troops and for which we relied too much upon our line.

"Weary" accolade from men marching by.

Self Reliance in Australian Defence

It is gratifying to know that the Navy has made significant development, and I would like to see this continue as a back-up in my remarks.

This is the centenary of the foundation of the Returned Services League of Australia and the 75th anniversary of the RSL. It is also the International Year of the Peace. Since the RSL was formed as an interim organisation in 1945, it has become a major force for peace. The RSL is a member of the Consultative Committee of the year of the Peace, where the Government has established my belief, as your President does, in the slogan: "If you want peace, prepare for war."

Let me now turn to materials before addressing the Secretaries-General of the Navy and the Air Force. We have a number of aircraft on order for the Navy, particularly where there are so many competitors for Commonwealth funds to the order of $52 million each year. For example, the patrol boat "Hobart" returned to Darwin last week from a patrol to Indonesia. That would have been beyond the capability of the Navy as a whole, but the capacity for expansion is really very limited. Although the Navy is small in terms of personnel, it is ready to be effective in peace and war.

I accept the proposition that there should be peace at any price. Peace must be realistic. It must be accompanied by the means to protect it. It must be associated with the assurance of its effectiveness and with the expectation that it will be maintained.

Let me address my remarks under two headings: Self-reliance and Peace. Peace is a most delicate balance. I subscribe wholeheartedly to the view that is expressed in the motto of the Navy Gunnery School: "If you want peace, prepare for war."

The days of the days of the masts of ships and the names of the ships are gone when sailors had every finger a mariner's speckle and discipline. Today, we have a new generation of people who are in the service of their country, and their achievements are outstanding.

People win the America's Cup. It isn't Benny Lexeri's keel, it's just people. So in all kinds of maritime and non-maritime activities, people are better trained than ever before. This makes them very valuable employees and, as a result, people are leaving their careers in the maritime field. We must have an entire run Navy about 8 to 10 years.

But an important part of life in self-reliant services is about the part in the winning of the America's Cup. It is important to remember that the Navy consists of about 1,000 people, and they are admirers of the Navy. Therefore, the capability for expansion is really very limited. Though the Navy is small in terms of personnel, it is ready to be effective in peace and war.

Though the Navy is small in terms of personnel, it is ready to be effective in peace and war.

The days of the days of the masts of ships and the names of the ships are gone when sailors had every finger a mariner's speckle and discipline. Today, we have a new generation of people who are in the service of their country, and their achievements are outstanding.

People win the America's Cup. It isn't Benny Lexeri's keel, it's just people. So in all kinds of maritime and non-maritime activities, people are better trained than ever before. This makes them very valuable employees and, as a result, people are leaving their careers in the maritime field. We must have an entire run Navy about 8 to 10 years.

But an important part of life in self-reliant services is about the part in the winning of the America's Cup. It is important to remember that the Navy consists of about 1,000 people, and they are admirers of the Navy. Therefore, the capability for expansion is really very limited. Though the Navy is small in terms of personnel, it is ready to be effective in peace and war.

Self Reliance in Australian Defence

The Navy are among the best in the world. The original design was good, silent and flexible. We've fitted them with weapons and sensors which are second to none and which make them particularly potent. We can ensure their successors are the equally potent.

So with that overview of the Navy, I now turn particularly to Western Australia. You have heard statements referring to a two-ocean Navy. I believe that the need for us to be competent, and to be seen ready to react in support of Government policy, is urgent. That is why we now have at the Stirling naval facility two destroyers which fit into the middle category, the Navy's largest survey ship and its helicopters, two Fremantle Class patrol boats and a third of the Atack type, and above all, in the Stirling's support facility, the capacity and infrastructure to rearm, refuel and sustain at sea four destroyers and three submarines.

You will be aware of the areas of concern to Australia. We see what has happened in the Gulf of Sidra, of Colonel Gaddafi's response and its consequence, and we hear of the events in Tripoli. We read of concern about the strategic defence initiative of the US. We see acts of terrorism resulting in the deaths of 2000 people as a result of the attacks on the US embassy in Beirut, 12 months. We see fishing agreements in the USSR to be signed by an independent nation of the Pacific. All these things lead me to believe that the world is by no means as secure as we had thought and that it is well for us to remember that.

Even though the Defence Report for the past year points out validly that Australia's region of primary strategic interest defined as our surrounding ocean areas, seas and straits, and the nations of S.E. Asia and the S.W. Pacific remains one of the most stable in the world, I say, not for any alarmist reason, but because events move very quickly and it may not be possible to predict with certainty what will happen in our region and it is important that our Armed Services remain as ready as is possible and that they be seen to be so.

Army Water Transport Men Gamble With Death In Cyclone

FROM THE MELBOURNE AREAS, SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1945

Gambling their lives for every minute of a seven hour battle against the cyclone which swept the eastern shore of Darwin harbour with a wind velocity of 80 miles an hour, men of the Army Water Transport Unit saved a small craft valued at $10,000 pounds. The only loss was a small power dinghy.

The cyclone reached the eastern shore of 80 miles an hour in the northern part of Arnhem Land. Dexaer for a sector of the harbour area. Jervis Bay and it mamm toxic.

From the afternoon, when the cyclone warning was received, to the end of the day, many heroic deeds were performed by the crews of many vessels, as they laboured to save the lives of the many men and women aboard them. The men worked without food and without relief for over three hours in some of the vessels.

The men worked tirelessly and without hate to personal danger in the storms of the day. When it was over, they were the only people alive, and were working on a vessel which had been tossed about in the storm, and was working a vessel which had been tossed about in the storm.

The cyclone reached the eastern shore of 80 miles an hour in the northern part of Arnhem Land. Dexaer for a sector of the harbour area. Jervis Bay and it mamm toxic.

While the vessels were drifting helplessly, the cyclone reached the eastern shore of 80 miles an hour in the northern part of Arnhem Land. Dexaer for a sector of the harbour area. Jervis Bay and it mamm toxic.

BRIEF HISTORY OF No.25 (CITY OF PERTH) SQUADRON

The City of Perth Squadron was formed on 3 May, 1937, at Laverton in Victoria and was known originally as No 23 (City of Perth) Squadron. The Squadron moved to Pearce WA in 1938 and was renumbered 25 Squadron on 1 January, 1939.

During the 1939-1945 war No 25 Squadron was employed initially on convoy close-support and anti-submarine patrols along the West Australian coast. In December 1944, the Squadron moved to Cunaerdin and was engaged in bombing operations against targets in the South West Pacific region until the war ended, when the Squadron was used in the repatriation of prisoners of war from the Pacific theatre.

No 25 Squadron was disbanded on 30 March, 1946, and re-formed at RAAF Base Pearce on 1 April, 1948, as an Active Citizen Air Force Fighter Squadron, manned by a nucleus of Permanent Air Force members supplemented by Active Citizen Air Force pilots and ground staff. The Squadron was then known as No 25 City of Perth (Fighter) Squadron. Re-organisation of the Citizen Air Force in 1960 changed the role from flying-training to ground-training and (Fighter) was dropped from the Squadron name.

Between 1938 and 1960 No 25 Squadron was equipped with a variety of aircraft that included Avro Trainers, Hawker Demons, Wirraways, Vultee Vengeance, Brewster Buffaloes, Liberators, Mustangs, Wirraways and Volleys.

Recently, the Citizen Air Force was changed to Royal Australian Air Force Active Reserve (RAAFAR). The RAAF Active Reserve provides a basis for Air Force expansion in time of national emergency and contributes significantly to peace-time operations.

No 25 (City of Perth) Squadron based at RAAF Base Pearce is the only RAAFAR Squadron in Western Australia, it provides training of reserve members to adapt their skills to RAAF needs and provides support to the RAAF units based at RAAF Base Pearce.

DEFENCE AND
EX-SERVICES PARTY

Prior to the Veterans’ Entitlement Bill, TPI’s were paid $182 p/wk, and their wives would automatically become war widows. Because of the new VEB and Retirement Rules veterans who prior to the VEB would have been classified as TPI’s are now being paid $68 p/wk, and their wives will NOT automatically become war widows. This refers to future grants of pension.

The Defence and Ex-Services Party will contest the seats of the next Senate Elections in NSW and possibly other States to fight the above obnoxious and other crippling provisions of the VEB.

The Party's membership is growing rapidly but needs more members and donations urgently in order to mount a sizeable Election Campaign.

The Joining Fee is only $2.

Remember, the Assets and Income Task Force is still active.

Applications for Memberships and Expressions of Interest from Senate Candidates are now being received.

THE GREAT BRITAIN TOUR — 1986

The Air Force Association Club of Western Australia (a part of the Royal Australian Air Force Association (W.A. Division) Inc.) is presently organising a most interesting tour of Great Britain. In conjunction with the R.A.A.F. Bank Travel Service, the Club has developed a tour of England, Scotland and Wales which will depart Perth on 24th August, 1986, spend a couple of days in Penang to ease the "jet-lag" problem and arrive in the "old dart" with everyone "frash as a daisy" and ready to go.

Some of the highlights to be enjoyed will be:
- Reservations for the famous "Edinburgh Military Tattoo";
- Reservations for the "Farnborough International Air Show";
- London sight-seeing tour;
- Imperial War Museum;
- Fleet Air Arm Museum and "Concorde" exhibition at Yeovilton;
- a day at Plymouth (home of the "Sunderland" Squadrons and bowls, Drake, etc.);
- a day at Chester (home barracks of the 20th Roman Legion);
- the Royal Air Force and Battle of Britain Museums; and
- much more.

The proposed route will proceed from London through Duxford, Cambridge, and Harrowgate to York; thence to Edinburgh. After a short stay in Edinburgh the tour will continue through the Scotch Lakes district to Chester. From here the "first-class" coach will move on through Wales, passing Llangollen and the "landlocked" sea to Bristol. A short stay in Bath (home Roman relics) and the following day to Penzance. Blundibury (King Arthur and Avalon), Yeovilton (Fleet Air Arm), followed by a more leisurely run along the south coast to Brighton. Having squeezed in a couple of visits to that experience, "first-time" the Farnborough Air Show, where the world's latest "aircraft" will be put through their paces "out of London" for "come-sight". Those who wish will return to Perth, while those who so desire are free to make further arrangements. Remember your ticket has an expiry date of August, 1987.

Imagine all this for three thousand one hundred and ninety-nine dollars ($3,199.00) and in "peak" season. For this reason places are limited and reservations will be handled on a "first come, first served" basis.

For further information please telephone the Association office on (09) 332 4444, leave your name and address will be sent to you.

Tom Scully, Chairman, Licensed Club and House Committee.

TB SAILORS', SOLDIERS' & AIRMEN'S ASSOC.

The Federated TB Sailors', Soldiers' and Airmen's Association (W.A.) wish to inform all members that their financial situation is declining yearly. We urge them to renew their support by becoming financial and active in the affairs of the Association. Without this support the aims of their Association, of safeguarding the interest of its members, cannot be achieved and our influence on conditions concerning them reduced greatly if not nullified. Our only strength lies in numbers and unity.

For any information please contact the Secretary, Mrs G. Storer, on 417 9598 or write to Room 22, Wellington Bldgs, 158 William St, Perth 6000.

The spirit of Anzac was certainly alive at Bellevue when the largest parade in recent years assembled for the March to the Bellevue Memorial Infant Health Centre for the Anzac Service. Returned soldiers, former servicemen and servicewomen, scouts, guides and a contingent from 26 Transport Troop Australian Army, together with a group of Polish Ex Servicemen, led by pipers and the colour-party made an impressive sight to the many spectators as they marched their way through the streets of Bellevue.

At the Memorial a short service was conducted by the RSL's Mr Harold Klopper BEM, assisted by the Rev. Lloyd Semple, President of the local Ministers fraternal.

The Anzac Day address was delivered by Mr Colyn Lee, a Past President of Legacy and one who has had a long association with the Blackboy Hill/Bellevue area. His message of continuing peace in the troubled world was carefully listened to by the large number of people in attendance.

However, the speech given by Greenmount Primary School Head Boy, Kim Bastian, drew admiration from the crowd as he touched on the subject of what Anzac Day means to him.

Kim said: "It is a day set aside so that we can remember for the sacrifices of people that gave their lives for a world-wide peace."

Bellevue Sub-Branch Vice President, John Barrington, pauses following laying of a wreath on behalf of the Sub-Branch.

He then reflected by saying:

"Yesterday when I stood at the Blackboy Hill service, I looked around and saw the very people who have been the backbone of our Sub-Branch. We are all the spirit of those Anzacs and to the children of the world, I tell you that we have been back at the school. It also made the theme of my generation. I was told to ask God, and I am sure that he never meant anyone to tell you that. God said: 'I actually received my Dux and I turned around and there was a line of the war. I looked at the flag and the green leaves and thought, 'How could I deal with this country, all this knowledge that went off to fight for this country, and never returned.'"

In conclusion he said:

"Let us remember that Anzac Day is a day we only had a but a day to remember the sacrifice of Anzac and all the people who lost their lives and in that way I want to say thank you for your work in the future."

In Geraldton on April 25, the local RSL President, Mrs. Lorraine Gilbert, referred to what she called “a minority who, in their insane compulsion for media notoriety, would attempt to convince people that the path to peace lay in the harassment and abuse of United States Service personnel and the desecration of War Memorials.”

On the 20th April members from the Belmont and Rivervale/Carlisle Sub Branches combined to hold the annual Anzac Commemoration Service at the Belmont War Memorial. They were joined by the Air Training Corps, Carnell Army Cadets, Girl Guides, Scouts, Beaufort and the Belmont War Memorial Service. The address was given by Mr. Joe Robinson, the New Zealand Consul and Trade Commissioner. Many members of the public also attended the service which was held in perfect weather conditions.

Armadale

Armadale had a busy week preparing for ANZAC Day. Following a request to the Navy, a White Ensign was granted. On the 22nd April Commissioner W. Brindley NDC attended the Branch to make the presentation in person. Afternoon tea was supplied by our ladies and the order to “replace the main ensign” was well-received.

ANZAC Day Service was attended by the Mayor, the RSL President and their families, 100 Cadets, members of the HMAS Perth and Swan, RWAR, W.A. Police Force, and the RSL President’s staff.

An RSL Life Member, Mr. Clem Burns, said that 443 wreaths were laid by representatives of community organisations, including youth organisations, in the presence of an estimated attendance of about 3,000 people.

The Army Reserve and the Town Band provided a Guard of Honour at the War Memorial, where 100 wreaths were laid by representatives of community organisations. The remainder of the day was spent in community organisations' activities. The address was given by Mr. Joe Robinson, the New Zealand Consul and Trade Commissioner. City of Perth Sub-Branch Celebrates 70 Years

The City of Perth Sub-Branch was first formed as the 11th Battalion AIF Association in August 1916, by men of the 11th Battalion who had returned wounded or sick from Gallipoli or Egypt.

Members of other local Brigades were also admitted and the name changed to the 3rd Brigade Association and members of the 2nd Division AIF returned and the WA Returned Soldiers' Association was formed in July 1916, with headquarters in Stirling Gardens.

The RSA continued to function and care for returned soldiers and their families. The title City of Perth Sub-Branch was adopted in 1917 and became the first Sub-Branch of the League with Perth as the first sub-branch.

Many of the RSA officers became the first State Executive and, in this way, the League extended to country districts.

Among the many activities of the sub-branch were the establishment of the RSL Memorial Band and interstate band contests in WA.

The Sub-Branch at this time had ideas of extending the hall to the Sub-Branch for a period of five years as from 1st July, 1936, at one penny per month payable on the first day of each month. Before the date of expiry, advice was received from the Board that they would not renew the lease of the hall and land in October, 1945, and it was sold to the Majestic Hotel, Applecross, of members of the Majestic Hotel Commissionaires. The Majestic Hotel had built their own church, "St. George," near the hall. The group had built their church in 1905, and had been used almost exclusively for church services.

In October, 1959, an offer of 2,600 pounds was made to the Sub-Branch. The offer was accepted, and the hall and land were purchased for 75 pounds per block. Shortly afterwards, the building was sold to the Sub-Branch for 75,000 pounds, which included a block of land at the rear.

The Sub-Branch also had ideas of extending the hall and purchasing new blocks adjacent to the hall to improve their social activities. In 1926, a new block was built at the rear of the Majestic Hotel, Applecross, and in 1936, another block was purchased for 75 pounds per block. Shortly afterwards, the building was sold to the Sub-Branch for 75,000 pounds. In 1945, another offer of 9,000 pounds was made to the Sub-Branch, which included a block of land at the rear.

In 1926, the Sub-Branch took over the management and control of hall a lot at 55 Point Peron from the State Executive of the League. Since that time, the Sub-Branch has maintained the hall for which the rent and taxes have been paid yearly.

For many years the sub-branch conducted dances at the old Majestic Hotel, which attracted thousands of people to each dance. The popular bands were Stu Jones, with Hall and the late Charlie Shaw and Red Piggott and the Rod Heiman's Dance Orchestra, and the final event at the old Majestic Hotel.

At the AGM held recently the retiring President, W. C. (Mike) Hall, Secretary P. G. Holder, and Treasurer, D. J. McClelland, were elected unopposed for a further term.

HARRY HOLDER

Applecross — 50 Years On

On 13th February, 1938, a meeting was held at the Majestic Hotel, Applecross, to consider the formation of a Sub-Branch.

Following the meeting, a letter was sent to the Sub-Branch in Perth, and a letter was sent to the Majestic Hotel in Applecross, stating that a sub-branch had been formed to be known as the Melville Sub-Branch.

On June 12th, 1938, the Majestic Hotel was purchased for 2,600 pounds, and the Sub-Branch continued to function there until November 1958, when an approach was made to the Sub-Branch at the Majestic Hotel, Applecross, to purchase the hall and land for a further five years.

The Sub-Branch, which had built their own church near the hall, had built their own church near the hall, and the church was used as a dance hall. The Sub-Branch also had ideas of extending the hall and purchasing new blocks adjacent to the hall to improve their social activities. A new block was built at the rear of the Majestic Hotel, Applecross, in 1926, and another block was purchased for 75 pounds per block. Shortly afterwards, the building was sold to the Sub-Branch for 75,000 pounds.

Women's Auxiliary State Executive Notes

The Executive, and the office, are back in business again — members with their hospital visiting, and Sully and Malsie getting everything organized for the Conference. The Agenda, although small, should be interesting. Mrs. Key, Immediate Past President of Tasmania, will be attending and we are looking forward to seeing her again.

Mrs. Cayley and Mrs. Rowe attended the Open Day at the War Veterans' Home, celebrating the 25th Anniversary of the Home and Mrs. Taylor represented the Auxiliaries at the R.A.A.F. 65th Anniversary celebrations at the Airforce Estate.

I have been to two League Group Conferences since Christmas — one at Northam, where the Auxiliary girls attended to the catering, and the other at Dalwallinu. Both Conferences were well-attended and much interest was shown in Repatriation and League matters. Delegates and Speakers undoubtedly benefit from these meetings as it allows all Sub-Branch members to bring forward their queries and ideas.

The Auxiliary attending the Presidents' and Secretaries' meeting discussed ideas for our 60th Conference in 1987, and Auxiliary work.

Mrs. Taylor and I placed the Auxiliary wreath on the State War Memorial during the Dawn Service on Anzac Day; it was pleasing to see the young children there. To me it is the most significant service of the day as one is fully reminded of the trauma of the waiting, and the horror of that first day, as the sun comes over the horizon and the day begins.

May is going to be a busy month, there is the Perth Conference, the Koolonup Auxiliary Luncheon, Belmont Auxiliary Fun and Friendship Day and, of course, Conference. Reports of these will be in my next report.

Joy Ford
State President.

Banbury Sub-Branch

1986 is going to be a very good year for our branch.

We held the election of officials at the first meeting, results being: President, Karlene Mossman; Secretary, Jacqui Stewart; Treasurer, Pam Lawrence.

The election of new women, Joy Board, President, Jean McGiashan, Secretary and Carolyn Webman, Treasurer, would be very much a big Thank You to Jo and Jean who have been at the helm for a number of years, and I am sure that the girls who have been anxious to serve the Auxiliary, would be very much a big Thank You to Jo and Jean who have been anxious to serve.

At present we have seventeen financial members who do a very good job, and when there is an event coming up, we also have many donations from the R.S.L. members and their wives.

We had a great year last year, raising enough money to replace the crockery in the kitchen, and make a substantial donation to the Bunbury R.S.L. at the Christmas Function. We have started this year off with a very successful stall at the Barter-Mart.

We will be starting hospital visits soon, as we now have enough members. If any of the Bunbury members reading this have a loved one or a friend who might like a visitor, a letter written or read to them, or some mending, would they please contact me through the R.S.L. office.

NEW MEMBERS? We would like to invite any woman whose father, brother or husband was (or still is) a serviceman, to come along to our meetings at the R.S.L. Hall on the 1st Wednesday of each month at 8.00pm and enjoy some friendship with other women who have similar interests.

Within the population of Bunbury we have six LIFE MEMBERS OF THE AUXILIARY. They are Mesdames Parker, McGiashan, Morton, Mason, Savage and Chidzey.

I look forward to a great year, and wish good luck to the other Auxiliaries throughout the State.

Karlene Mossman

ANZAC COMMEMORATIVE SERVICES

Scouts Stand Vigil At Blackboy

Dianella Group

On Anzac-Eve, as the sun set over the City of Perth, a simple wreath-laying ceremony took place at Blackboy Hill, followed by members of 1st Dianella Scout Group mounting an all-night vigil.

Since 1963 the scouts from Dianella have readily accepted the self-imposed obligation to mount the Anzac Dawn Service on Blackboy Hill, to remind members of our war dead and of our obligations to our nation.

As dawn broke over the hills one of the largest crowds, well in excess of 500 persons, gathered to pay their respects to the Blackboy War Memorial by community groups and private individuals.

As the echo of sound of the Last Post and Reveille shattered the silence of the dawn and all listened to the simple act of remembrance, the scouts, guides, and public quietly dispersed to go about their business.

Bellevue/Greenmount Group

Members of the Bellevue/Greenmount community once again gathered in large numbers on Anzac Day to pay tribute to those who lost their lives while serving their country in war. Services were held on Anzac-Eve at the Blackboy Hill Commemorative Site and on Anzac Day at the Bellevue Memorial Infant Health Centre.

Greenmount Primary School hosted a school-children's service on the Thursday afternoon, with 400 children from surrounding schools. The service was conducted by the children, with assistance from the Governor Stirling Senior High School Band and Chorus from neighbouring Primary School and the local Band, Incidently, Mr Mike Hall, Member of RSL State Executive, delivered the traditional Anzac tribute.

In his short address he emphasised the importance of the Ellipses in the central feature of the structure as a "sculptural form commemorating the spirit of Anzac and symbolising an interval from the passing of the spirit from generation to generation of young Australians."

Mr McDonald charged today's youth with the responsibility of ensuring that the Anzac spirit was indeed perpetuated into the future.

Brendan Quinn and Matthew Nicholas of 1st Dianella Scout Group prepare to place a wreath on the Blackboy War Memorial.

Bellevue RSL Members Harold Cooper, Don Berrill-Lennard, John Barrington and Colin Lee share a campfire with Dianella Scouts on Blackboy Hill.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ANZAC Day

Children of Grade 5 at the Lutheran Primary School have written about what ANZAC Day means to them. Of the 24 letters received, each of equal importance and expressing similar sentiments, one is published with the names of all the children. We wish we could print all the letters but space is not available.

What ANZAC Day Means To Me

ANZAC Day means a lot to me because my Great Grand-dad died in Gallipoli and my Grand-dad went to El Alamein in the Second World War. My Grand-dad went to the Second World War and my Dad went to Vietnam.

Grand-dad died in Gallipoli and my Grand-dad went to El Alamein in the Second World War and my Dad went to Vietnam.

Aged Open Line

Dear Editor,

The State Government has recently established an information and referral service for Western Australian Senior Citizens. The service is called the Aged Open Line, and it can provide information on a wide range of issues relevant to the interests of the elderly, such as pensions, accommodation, recreation activities, health services, etc. Visitors and telephone enquiries are welcome between the hours of 8am and 6pm.

The Aged Open Line is situated on the Ground Floor of the May Holman Centre (old Superannuation Building), 32 Gordon Way, Bayswater, WA 6053.

I hope to be able to help people remember the importance of us due to the loss of businesses.

Bill of Rights

Dear Editor,

I recently read your article in the 'Listening Post' regarding the proposed 'Bill of Rights'.

I am in complete agreement with your stand on this issue, and I hope you will bring the subject to the attention of the Australian Senate (perhaps you could make a comment in a future edition).

Thank you,

Your sincerely,

Rue Petillon War Cemetery

Dear Editor,

In the Autumn edition of the Listening Post there was a letter from Mr John L. Hill who, during a visit to France in 1983, took a videotape of the Rue Petillon War Cemetery and the graves of 36 men (including his uncle and my father) of the 11th Battalion killed on the night of 30 May 1916.

John Hill's letter invited relatives to contact him which is not available. 'space is not available.'

I hope this reaches people inconvenienced by the non-availability of the cemetery and the individual headstones. Of particular poignancy to me was the one inscribed: 3380 Pte A. Underwood, 11th Battalion, killed on the night of 30 May 1916.

John Hill's letter invited relatives to contact him which is not available. 'space is not available.'

Yours faithfully,

Vietnam Vets

Dear Editor

On behalf of the Vietnam Veterans RSL Sub-Branch, I wish you to include in your next edition of the Listening Post under Sub-Branch News, the following:

There appears to be some confusion by some Vietnam Veterans as to which organisation represents Vietnam Veterans in WA.

There are two organisations in WA these being the Vietnam Veterans' RSL Sub-Branch and the Vietnam Veterans' Association of Australia WA Branch. The latter organisation was originally called The Vietnam Veterans Family Association of Australia WA Branch.

The Vietnam Veterans' RSL Sub-Branch is, as the name implies, a legal entity constituted under the laws of the State of Western Australia. The Vietnam Veterans' Association of Australia WA Branch also is a legally-constituted body but is a separate organisation from the RSL.

Strange as it may seem, a lot of Vietnam Veterans are unaware that the RSL has a Vietnam Veterans' Sub-Branch which meets on the second Wednesday of each month at the Nollamara RSL Hall, Sylvia Street, Nollamara at 8pm (full bar facilities available).

I would also like to point out that a lot of Vietnam Veterans are under the impression that the RLS has a Vietnam Veterans' Sub-Branch which meets on the second Wednesday of each month at the Karrakatta RSL Hall, Story Street, Karrakatta at 8pm (full bar facilities available).

I would also like to point out that a lot of Vietnam Veterans are under the impression that Colin EVANS President of the Vietnam Veterans Association of Australia WA Branch, speaks on behalf of all Vietnam Veterans. Please be assured that he does not and a lot of Vietnam Veterans follow the traditional values of the RSL in their efforts to obtain better benefits for all Veterans.

It appears that when Colin EVANS President of the Vietnam Veterans Association of Australia WA Branch, speaks to the media, he is speaking on behalf of all Vietnam Veterans. I want to bring to the notice of your readers that a lot of Vietnam Veterans follow the traditional values of the RSL in their efforts to obtain better benefits for all Veterans.

Here's a thought ...

"A father said he knew that his son was growing up when he saw him looking at a girl the way he used to look at a chocolate cake."

James Dent

"I have seen flowers come out in many places, kind things done by men with ugly faces and the gold cup won by the worst horse at the fair. So, I must say..."

John Masefield

"To know where you can find a thing is the chief part of learning."

Persius

"One can bear to be rebuked, but not to be laughed at."

LOST TRAILS — CAN YOU HELP?

Vultee Vengeance

RAAF Vultee Vengeance A27-295 crashed south of Southern Cross, WA, on Sunday, 27th August, 1944.

On board were WO A.J. Ingram and FTSG C.L. King. Navigator King perished but his body has never been seen after 60 years later.

As Principal of Mount Walker Primary school from 1981-83, I headed a research project for the children on this piece of local history. The area south of Southern Cross and east of Narembeen WA. My own interest in this concept has evolved into a personal study of a puzzling piece of WA aviation history.

To draw help I have now been learning from the WA Police, RAAF and locals — The subsequent search. Army personnel from the 19th Australian Garrison Hills and Narembeen WA, members of the missing navigator's family and other interested persons.

If you would consent to assist, I would very much appreciate your being willing to send me any of your memories to assist in the writing of a document that will be as accurate as possible. If you have photographs you will lend me, I will scan them copied either and return.

I would like to encourage the current owner of Missing Boomer, or for donation etc. I will give the memorial name and details which to work.

Please do write people's names, ranks, dates, times, models of vehicles, etc as each little detail given previously has given me clues to further research.

I trust that you will view this as a valuable piece of WA history commemorating the bravery of these two men and many here who would be interested in the formation of such an association.

If you would like further information, please contact Mr. A.J. Ingram at 132 Shaftesbury Avenue, Bedford, MK8 0LG, United Kingdom, for news of other ex-members and possibly a reunion later?

602 (City of Glasgow) Squadron RAF

Would any ex-members of 602 Spitfire Squadron write to Squadron Leader Tom Maggs, RAF (Retired) of 49 Wavell Road, Maidenhead, Berkshire SL6 5AG, United Kingdom, for news of the squadron museum association, of other ex-members and possibly a reunion later?

Tom Maggs would particularly like to contact ex-Flight Lieutenant Brian Jernwal DFC.

Unit history sought

I am compiling a formal World War II history on the activities of the following units:

- 602 (City of Glasgow) Squadron RAF
- 732 (Reserve) Squadron RAF
- 47 (Reserve) Squadron RAF
- 240 (City of Glasgow) Squadron RAF

If you would like further information, please contact Mr. A.J. Ingram at 132 Shaftesbury Avenue, Bedford, MK8 0LG, United Kingdom, for news of other ex-members of these units.

A call to ex-BCOF veterans

In most States of Australia there are active Associations of BCOF Veterans, including two "BCOF" Sub-Branches, NSL in Queensland and one in New South Wales. To date, none exist in WA. Of the estimated 40,000 Australian men and women who served with BCOF there must be many here who would be interested in the formation of such an association.

If you would like further information, please contact Mr. A.J. Ingram at 132 Shaftesbury Avenue, Bedford, MK8 0LG, United Kingdom, for news of such an association.

Sergeant Ernest J. Logan

Dr. J.S. Logan of 27 Myrtlefield Park, Belfast BT8 6NF, Northern Ireland, UK wishes to contact No. 127 Sergeant Ernest J. Logan who, in 1918, was stationed at the Central Registry of the AIF in Tidworth, Wilts, England, or any of his descendants.

Sergeant Logan arrived in Australia on 11 February, 1918 and served with 27 Australian Infantry Battalion in France and in Italy.

Anyone who can assist Dr. Logan is asked to contact Mr. A.J. Ingram at 132 Shaftesbury Avenue, Bedford, MK8 0LG, United Kingdom.

Battle of Kapyong
April 24 this year marked the 35th Anniversary of the Battle of Kapyong during the Korean "Police Action". That was when 3rd Battalion, Royal Australian Regiment, so distinguished itself as a fighting force that it earned two distinctions — a United States Unit Presidential Citation and the nickname "Old Faithful". Kit Denton, author of "The Breaker" and two books on Gallipoli, is now starting work on a new book to be called simply "Kapyong" and he is most anxious to contact survivors of the battle and to be able to use any souvenirs or photographs for reproduction in his book.

Kit Denton's address for correspondence is 2 McLaughlin Ave, Wentworth Falls, NSW 2782.

Sogeri National High School
Dear Sir,
I am writing a history of the Sogeri National High School, which began in June, 1944, on the site of the Australian Army's 113th Convalescent Depot next to the Ewarogo River at Sogeri (or Koitaki).
The first chapters of the book will deal with the war associations of the Sogeri Plateau and in particular the school site itself.
The student members of the History Club and I would be most grateful to hear from any members of your State Branch who spent some time at the 113 Con. Depot during the war. It was also known as "Thorpville" after its CO Lt Colonel J H Thorp, who answered a similar letter in REVEILLE (NSW) and sent us a great deal of informative material on cassette. Perhaps your branch has such a magazine, in which this appeal could be published.
Detailed information and photographs of old maps, letters, photographs etc, would be welcome and will, of course, be acknowledged in the book. Any contact assumed in writing material will be covered by the History Club of the school which is the oldest and most known secondary school in Papua New Guinea.

Other local war stories which we are asking information include: 1. The MAAG Convalescent Depot No 8 near Rabaul 2. The Army School of Signals also there 3. The Papuan Infantry Battalion at Bisiatabu 4. The Army camp at Donadabu 5. "Kings Hollow" an outpost of the 46th Camp Hospital 6. The Rouna Red Cross convalescent Depot and the Rouna Traffic Control Posts, Nos. 1 and 2, and 7. The ANG Jaw HQ at Sogeri.
We hope that some of your members have information or even documents they would like to share with us.

With every best wish,

Moms Association
In the last edition (Autumn 1986), under the above heading on page 21, the reference to 27 Beaufighter Squadron is incorrect. I have been in touch with Mr Frank Rubina who advised that the reference to 27 Squadron was a mistake in another publication and it may be better to delete all reference to the book.

The Moms Association (Mohawk Squadrons Association) is trying to trace former personnel of Nos. 5, 146, and 155 Mohawk Squadrons of the South East Asia Command in India and Burma during World War II. Please contact Frank Rubina, Honorary Secretary, Unit 8, 90 Gordon Road, CARPENTARIA VIC, 3214.

BOOK REVIEW

"And Far From Home"

John Balfe AFC
Macmillan Australia. $19.95

"And Far From Home" continues in the tradition of John Balfe's first bestseller, "War Without Glory". Here are the recollections of an RAAF squadron commander who, in the Pacific War, flew with the transport squadrons that carried men, machines and supplies to the battlefronts. It is a book for every bookshelf.

As years pass, memories of deeds of bravery, tragedy and devotion-to-duty fade. The memories of heroism and compassion, shown by so many under difficult and sometimes hazardous conditions, are lost to us and to our national history unless recorded for future generations.

John Balfe's book is a timely, well-described and documented reminder of some of the experiences of those men who kept the vital air supply lines of men and materials in operation, flying transport aircraft.

"Gallipoli — 1915"

COMPOSED IN THE TRENCHES

(Composed to the tune "The Mountains of Mourne"

They say Gallipoli's a terrible place
Where the boys in the trenches the foe have to face
Never a murmur they smile through it all
Very soon they expect Ache-Baba, the hill for to fall
But for all their great wishes I'll bet they'll still be
Where old Gallipoli sweeps down to the sea.

The day that we landed I'll never forget
We walked from the shore with our clothes wringing wet
Although we were soaking right into the skin
We got picks and shovels to dig ourselves in
We stayed in the trenches our clothes there to dry
And went up to the charge on the 12th of July
We took 4 or 5 trenches before we were stopped
But we didn't catch old Johnny Turk on the hop
And for all our endeavours we're still wishful to be
Where old Gallipoli sweeps down to the sea.

Funeral Oration: F.W. Gomm

This is a very sad occasion, the interment of the late Francis William GOMM.

He knew Frank for over 50 years. He was a large, warm-hearted man with a big voice, a great sense of humor and a big laugh. He was very active in local affairs, the RSL as a member of Albany RSL Board.

For many years after he returned from the Second World War, he became very active in the RSL, serving as President of the Albany Branch, as again in the service of his country as a soldier.

Along with his brother-in-law, he was a leader in the support of Returned Services Legions and was a member of the Albany RSL Board.

After the Second World War, Frank became very active in the RSL, serving as President of the Albany Branch, as a State Country Vice-President and he was made a Life Member of the RSL in 1959. He was a great man, leading from the front and making a difference to other men.

In sport, he made his presence felt as a bowler and in refereeing. He fought hard and fearlessly for any deal that he believed in and represented the State RSL in team events.

In offering our condolences to his family, I would like to say that, although it is a very sad occasion, they can be extremely proud that we say - at the going down of the sun on 9th May, 1986, I knew Frank for over 50 years. He was a large, powerful man with a big voice, a great sense of humor and a big laugh. He was very active in local affairs, the RSL as a member of Albany RSL Board.

THE LOSS OF HMAS WALLAROO

This year is the 43rd anniversary of the loss of the Royal Australian Navy corvette/minesweeper HMAS WALLAROO — only 60 miles west of the Port of Fremantle.

On 10 June, 1943, HMAS WALLAROO was lost off the coast of Western Australia, after a collision with the American Liberty ship, Henry Gilbert Costin, around midnight on 10 June. Three Wallaroo crew members were lost at sea, two killed and a third drowned.

HMAS WALLAROO was the 56th ship of the Bathurst-class corvettes/minesweepers built for the RAN between 1940 and 1943 in Australian shipyards. The ship was launched on 18 February, 1942, and commissioned on 15 July, under the command of Lieutenant E.S. Ross, RANR.

After working up, HMAS WALLAROO carried out her first anti-submarine patrol in September, 1942. The ship was now part of the convoy escort between Melbourne and Subic Bay in the Philippines.

On its last fateful assignment, HMAS WALLAROO sailed from Fremantle on 10 June, accompanying the two American merchant ships, John G. Whittler and Henry Gilbert Costin, as an anti-submarine escort.

Steaming at 10 1/2 knots, 800 metres apart (with the diminutive Wallaroo leading the merchantmen in column), the two ships steamed at a selected point about 60 miles west of Fremantle where they would leave on their respective ocean routes and the corvette would return to Fremantle.

The dispersal point was reached at midnight on the 10th June, and the Wallaroo and the two merchantmen dispersed as planned, the moon was obscured by cloud, visibility was down to a nautical mile, the darkened ships still steamed in column.

HMAS WALLAROO's Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Ross, decided that further steering was unnecessary and he altered course to starboard, signalling the next ship in the column, the John G. Whittler, to disperse.

The WALLAROO passed the John G. Whittler; the Henry Gilbert Costin each sighted the other on the starboard and port bows respectively, and the corvette passed the dispersal signal to the merchantmen.

among cenotaph or empty tomb; but the idea developed in his mind as he approached the Dean of Westminster Abbey, home and Empire, for the sacred cause of justice and freedom of the world. They buried him with honour, comparable to that given to Westminster Abbey in the presence of His Majesty the King George V, his Ministers of the State, the chiefs of his forces and a vast concourse of the nation. This is commemorated by the multitude who during the Great War of 1914-1918 gave the most that man can give, his life, for God, for King and Country, for loved ones, home and Empire, for the sacred cause of justice and freedom of the world. They buried him among the kings because he had done good towards God and towards His House.

In the days of old, kings, chiefs and famous men were often buried in magnificent tombs. The pyramids, mausoleums and grave monuments of Egypt are the most famous. When a great king died, the people would set up a huge monument and the assessors over a paragraph or two in history books, all this is an unknown man being buried with such a great ceremony.

It is from the inspiration of an Army chaplain, the Rev. David Aston, M.C., in the First World War, near Amiens, that the idea of a great burial for a dead soldier came. He drafted a letter to the Allies, a great soldier, asking for the burial of an unknown soldier. It was in this letter that the idea that later became the memorial. It was not until 1920, however, that he was able to put forward the plan which had been in his mind; he approached the Dean of Westminster Abbey. And so an official journal of the Thirteyniners’ Association of Australia, in its Armistice Day Issue 1985.

One of the world’s best known war memorials is the Tomb of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey. London. This account of how the idea of such a memorial arose and how it was carried out is published with acknowledgement to “The Thirteyniners”, official journal of The Thirteyniners’ Association of Australia.

LIEUT. WILBER DARTNELL, V.C.

In the November 1985 issue of "Home Front" an article appears concerning Lieutenant William Dartnell and the sale of the Victoria Cross awarded to him for a large sum of money.

The article is reprinted here. The name Lieut. Wilber Dartnell is inscribed on one of the plaques on our cenotaph at the top of Oxford Street in East London, and is generally regarded as East London's first Victoria Cross hero. Being of an inquisitive turn of mind, and interested in military history the following facts emerged.

Dartnell was born in Australia about 1885 and came to South Africa with the Australian Contingent during the South African War. Dartnell was only 15 years old when he enlisted in Melbourne, and was wounded on his 16th birthday while serving as a galloper in the Victoria Regiment. After the war Dartnell returned to Australia with the Australian Volunteers.

A few years later he came to East London, and on the 22nd of May 1915 he enlisted with the 25th Battalion, Royal Fusiliers (City of London Regiment). On the 22nd June, 1915 he led an attack and was the first to give the enemy a lead and had down the German flag. For his bravery he was mentioned in despatches and recommended for the Distinguished Service Order.

During an engagement during September, 1915 a mounted enemy Askaris closed in on a small British force near Maktau, East Africa. They were so close that it was impossible to remove the more seriously wounded men and it was decided to leave them behind. Dartnell, who had been wounded in the leg, was carried away when he motioned the bearers to stop. He knew the wounded were left to the mercy of the enemy Askaris. He insisted on being left in the hope that he might save some of them. He was subsequently murdered with the other wounded when the Askaris swarmed into the camp.

In making this noble effort, he gallantly gave his own life in an endeavour to save his comrades. The V.C. was presented to Dartnell's widow Mrs. Elizabeth Dartnell by the Governor General of Australia on October 7th, 1916.

Dartnell is buried in grave number 18, row D, plot V, Voic Cemetery.
